Leebcor Services, LLC Announces New Chief Operating Officer

William A. Sorrentino, Jr., has been promoted to Chief Operating Officer

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., March 30, 2023 -- Leebcor Services, LLC, a leading federal construction services provider, announced that William "Bill" Sorrentino, Jr., PE, DBIA, has been promoted to Chief Operating Officer after a successful tenure as Vice President of Federal Operations.

A professional structural engineer by trade, Mr. Sorrentino brings 45 years of construction management experience to his new role. Before joining Leebcor Services, Mr. Sorrentino served as Chief of Engineering and Construction and Deputy District Engineer for Project Management for the US Army Corps of Engineers Norfolk District where he was responsible for a $2B construction program and oversaw a staff of 350 personnel.

Mr. Sorrentino joined Leebcor Services in 2017 as Vice President of Business Development before his promotion in 2022 to Vice President of Federal Operations. He has been a driving force in the company's expansion to new markets and is dedicated to strengthening Leebcor's position as a premier federal construction general contractor throughout the Southeastern United States.

"I'm honored to serve as Leebcor's COO," said Mr. Sorrentino. "Leebcor has tremendous, hard working and caring people, working at all levels to ensure that our client's mission is accomplished. 'Your mission, our passion.' is more than a company motto: It's our culture that will be imprinted on every job we do. Our future is bright and exciting, and I'm thrilled to be part of our future successes."

"We look forward to his exemplary managerial skills and leadership in his new role as he helps guide us to the next level of Leebcor's journey of growth and prosperity," said Owner and Chief Executive Officer John Karafa.
